

W-3 employs full-time seasoned professionals who share our commitment to delivering customers satisfaction and understand all elements of construction. Professional staff skills include, among others: construction project management, estimating, value engineering, design construct ability reviews, process administration, project accounting, and quality control. The organizational workforce also includes trade personnel which fluctuate in relation to project requirements.

Our team members known for going the extra distance to do what is best for the client and not just build, attributes to our continue growth, our services and customer base. We listen, we are proactive and we stay involved. All are focus on providing a superior product at a competitive price. They have the education, training, and on the job experience to complete the most complex projects.

W-3, attributes to its professional staff excellence ,awards received by the Engineering Society , Construction Association of Michigan, Outstanding Achievement Award for Building Design and Construction; Association of General Contractors Build Michigan; Labor, Owner, Contractor Summit Group's Gender and Race Diversification Excellence. These awards are in recognition of our success in achieving quality, complex and superior construction.